Inside your machine you will find on or two switches. Usually they are on the power supply but sometimes they are on the inside of the door in the middle.

If your machine has two switches then one switch will force a reset after a big bonus and the other will control the emptying of all credits after a big bonus. You will need to try them to figure out which is which.

If your machine has only one switch then this switch usually controls both functions in the above statement.

Even if your machine does not require the reset after the Big Bonus I suggest you try setting the machine to require it as I have found some cool music on some machines that is played before the reset is done. This is also the only way to get the "Game Over" light to light.

One day I will post some pictures for this.

Chris
